

For Auditor of Public Accounts.

CLINTON F. BAIRD, of Ohio county, is a candidate for Auditor of Public Accounts, subject to the action of the Democratic party, August election, 1879.

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

DR. H. A. M. HENDERSON, of Bourbon county, is a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

For Congress.

James A. McKenzie, of Christian county.

Stand by Your Rights.

The great struggle is over, and we feel confident that the people have vindicated and sustained the old party of principles. The people have administered another just rebuke to the would-be dominant power that strikes down liberty and law that they may hold and retain office and authority. After such a miserable, wretched and exposed villainy of supervisors and returning boards of State elections, we would naturally conclude that the Republican party would elect in the future, but true to the principles of holding power by fraud and force they adopt the same shameful means to thwart the will of the people and find them in the shackles of despotism—for it is the only name by which it can be truthfully characterized. They saw the handwriting on the wall, the condemnation of the people and the certainty of the demise of the Republican party, the loss of the Legislative branches of the Government and the consequent check upon the Executive, and their only hope was to find some plausible pretext to disrupt the next Congress, and in some way maintain ascendancy. For that purpose the federal supervision of the Congressional election has been assumed and we will have, as sure as the morning sun rises, another perpetration of the old fraudulent corruption. It has been plying out for some time, and Hayes is fully into the secret. Will the people submit? that is the question.

Will We Miss You?

Yes, we reply, you will be missed from the home circle, from the circle of the fashion and gay. Young delights in the contests of rivalry, with the bewitching smile and bright eye, triumphs and conquests are over; new homes, other happier, most elegant and graceful employments, installed queen of the domestic circle, with its pleasant cares and womanly authority—after the unequalled fashion of old England, whose happy homes are the envy of the world. Yes, home, with its attractions and pleasant cares, will always be a source of rapturous delight to which young husbands willingly enslave their charming brides queen of the domestic empire, sovereigns of their affection, the guardian angels of their real happiness through life. Then, beautiful young brides, you have only exchanged one degree of happiness for another, to which we welcome you with earnest, true friendship.

A Large Fee—How the People's Money Goes.

Our readers are nearly all aware of a suit commenced in 1876 in this Circuit Court of John B. Stevens versus Commonwealth of Kentucky to recover damages for loss on their Lock and Dam on Rough creek, which made said stream navigable to Hartford. The case was transferred to the Davies Circuit Court and a trial finally had and a judgement rendered in favor of plaintiffs for the sum of four or five thousand dollars. Maj. Joe Haycraft represented the Commonwealth's interest, and no doubt did his duty faithfully; but on the final trial of the case at Owensboro he was allowed a fee of four thousand dollars! When! what a pile. The whole thing has been a series of blunders. It was an egregious mistake in the Legislature to lease the Green and Barren rivers navigation to a company for thirty years without carefully guarding every interest of the people of the State. It was an unwise act authorizing the suit of Stevens vs. Commonwealth without fixing a limit to the fee of the attorney defending. The allowance to Maj. Haycraft was made by Judge Stuart upon the statement of attorneys as to what his services were worth. We cannot, for the life of us, see upon what basis these attorneys estimated his services to be worth $4,000.

There were several lawyers on the other side, some, if not all of whom are peers of Maj. Haycraft, and their combined fee, we understand, was about $1,500. Now, how was it possible for Maj. Haycraft's services to be worth so much more? Was it because he had a rich client? He was Commonwealth's Attorney at the same time, and attended to those duties, and only put in his odd time in the cause. His income as an officer in the two years was quite sufficient to satisfy any lawyer of equal ability, and a small fee for extra expenses and time ought to have been allowed, but $4,000 is a great deal too much. He was engaged occasionally in the case for nearly two years, and $2,000 a year is a big salary grab to add to the other fees of his office. In fact, while we properly estimate Maj. Haycraft's abilities as a lawyer, we also think, in times like these, he would be well paid for the whole time this suit was pending in the fee allowed. Col. D. Howard Smith, Auditor of State, refused to pay the allowance. An action of mandamus was brought by Maj. Haycraft in the Franklin Circuit Court. The case was heard and determined, and the Auditor required to pay. He appealed and the Appellate Court affirmed the decision of the lower court, and the Major will get his grab. He surely puts a high estimate on his ability as a lawyer, or else he has a "hankering" to get hold of all the greenbacks in sight. It is proper to add that Maj. Haycraft was unable to get the affidavit of any Hartford lawyer that his fee was worth $4,000.

Alvis Adcock, who was sent to jail for contempt of court by Judge Baldwin of the United States Court at Louisville, last week, has been removed to the Muhlenberg county jail, where he will remain until he either makes a settlement or gives satisfactory bond for the amount in consideration.—Muhlenberg Echo.

Cornelius Welsh, of Hopkins county, was victimized on the knife trick by one of those sweet-scented cullies, who fell so much in love with the E. J. at the fair last week. His experience cost him $25. It is truly astonishing to see how one after another, people will continue to fool with kerosene and bite at the tricks of the fair fakir.—Muhlenberg Echo.

Hon. Ignatius Spalding, of Union county, has been appointed by the Governor as representative from this Congressional district to the Commercial Convention to be held in Chicago, November 12th, 1878.

Wm. D. Wood, of Elizabethtown, was chosen as Common School Commissioner at the late Court of Claims. Lame county elected D. H. Smith, of Hodgenville.

Ben Hogan, the noted prize-fighter and gambler, has reformed and is leading a sober religious life. Good for Ben.

The Nelson Record risks its reputation on the age of a gander, which it says is forty-three years old.

J. D. Beers, Esquire, of McHenry county, added another curiosity to our already numerous lot of specimens. It seems to be something in the shape of a claw and has a light quality of stone. The screw thread is visible.

BUTLER COUNTY.

MORGANTOWN, Oct. 31, 1878.

Some time last spring Mr. J. N. Phelps (the man who opposed Hon. Sam E. Hill for the Senate) formed a business partnership with Mr. Jno. Wile on the satisfactory condition that Phelps was to furnish the capital and Wile's experience. They have recently dissolved, said firm, because it now appears that Wile has the capital and Phelps the experience. We learn that an advertisement, with a view of closing up the business of the firm, directs those indebted to the firm to come forward and settle with Wile, and those to whom the firm is indebted will please settle with Phelps. That looks like it ought to be satisfactory.

P. S.—Since writing the above, we learn that Wile has charge of the Dry Goods department, on which he made about $2,500, and Mr. Phelps has charge of the Tobacco House, purchasing about three hundred thousand pounds of tobacco, upon which he lost about $2,500. That makes it still more satisfactory.

At a late hour on the night of the 25th, a young gentleman by the name Herald, first and only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Herald, made his arrival in our town from Babylon. From the attention given him by the ladies of the community, I infer that his health is very precarious. I have not yet had the pleasure of an introduction to him.

Miss Mollie Ricketts, daughter of Mr. W. T. Ricketts, has been quite sick of diphtheria during her visit to our town. She is reported to be much better by Dr. Morehead, her attending physician.

Mrs. Ellen Porter, wife of C. T. Porter, and daughter of the late Robt. Austin of Ohio county, is lying very low of consumption—not expected to live many days.

Prof. Finley has returned from an attendance of the conference of his church. He reports a harmonious and pleasant session of the same.

Dr. Morehead has an orchard of dwarf pear trees of about two years' growth, 50 in number, planted with great care in very straight rows and equal distance apart, upon which he has bestowed much attention and from which he is expecting great results. Not long since the Doctor let his saddle horse around very carefully between the rows, and turned him loose to crop some tender grass. An interesting sight happened that way, whose unsolicited familiarity became disagreeable to Mr. Bill Morehead; to rid himself of which old Bill made a very violent demonstration, taking the direct line of one of the rows, resulting in breaking four of the trees off at the point of grafting. A spectator of the scene says that notwithstanding the Doctor's proverbial evenness of temper and his good standing in the church, he heard some terrible imprecations, and is not positively certain that they were not slightly tainted with profanity.

My mental.

The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. H. Hardwick in Hartford, Ky., at 2 o'clock P. M. October 31, 1878. The bride, Miss Annie Davis, of Pleasant Ridge, Davies county, Ky., triumphantly shared Miss Lizzie Hardwick, by the golden shroud of love to the nuptial altar and in the presence of God and before Rev. F. J. Randolph gallantly yielded up his bachelor life—proudly owning his blushing bride as a sparkling, precious jewel.

Providence, prodigal of its favors, has bestowed on the Doctor the last crowning gift, a lovable wife. Bride and groom, happy pilgrims for life, may your pathway ever be strewn with way-side flowers of unexpected pleasure.

ATTENDANTS.

Miss Katie Hardwick, a sister of the bride, and Mr. Thos. Hewitt, of Hartford, and Miss Maggie Morehead, of Hartford, and Mr. Dudley Ford, of Pleasant Ridge, were the bridesmaid attendants.

The parlors were in gorgeous array—wreaths of evergreens and rare flowers, festooned the walls. After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests were invited into a large dining hall which had also been handsomely decorated with flowers and evergreens and brilliantly lighted. A long table had been spread in the form of a cross and upon it was placed a rich collection—the perfection of culinary art. Bowls of custard ambrosia, jellies and pine apples, pyramids of cakes, stands of fruits, nuts and candies, were distributed over the table in generous profusion, and vases of cut flowers perfumed the air.

The bride's cake was a marvel of beauty within itself. Confectioners and decorators were given carte blanche and their duties in the most artistic manner—making the table appear like an art exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick treated all with uniform courtesy and kindness, and made their many guests pleasant and comfortable, and upon the whole, the event was brilliant and one long to be remembered.

The young couple left immediately for their future home at Pleasant Ridge. None but good wishes will attend them.

McHenry News.

McHENRY, Ky., Nov. 4, 1878.

Dear Herald: From some cause, you passed us on your journey last week—only returned late Saturday evening. I had no idea we would miss you so much. The boys could be seen consulting together and speculating what has become of the Herald. "I didn't get it this week," our Post Master says. "It has not come." But, alas, our hearts were made glad Saturday night, and we were unto the mail agent that took the Hartford Herald past this office again. May the blessings of God follow him all the balance of his life, and never overtake him.

A boy's first bet—Alpha-bet. A clumsy man, with big feet is the grimmest train wrecker a woman knows of. When a young lady gives herself away, she naturally loses her self-possession. When is a ship like a dressmaker? When she is rounding the Cape or tacking about.

CARBOLINE.

A DEODORIZED EXTRACT OF PETROLEUM. The only Article that will Restore Hair on Bald Heads.

WHAT THE WORLD HAS BEEN WANTING FOR CENTURIES.

The greatest discovery of our day, so far as a large portion of humanity is concerned, is CARBOLINE, an article prepared from Petroleum, and which effects a complete radical cure in cases of baldness, or where the hair, owing to diseases of the scalp, has become thin and tends to fall out. It is also a speedy restorative, and while it secures a luxuriant growth of hair, it also brings back the natural color, and gives the most complete satisfaction in the coloring. The falling out of the hair, the accumulations of dandruff, and the premature change in color, are all evidences of a diseased condition of the scalp and the glands which nourish the hair. To arrest these causes the article need not possess medicinal as well as chemical virtues, and the change must be in such a way as to be permanent and lasting benefit. Such an article is CARBOLINE, and like many other wonderful discoveries it is found to consist of elements almost in their natural state. Petroleum is the article which is used to work such a chemical change in the hair, but it is after it has been chemically treated and completely deodorized that it is in proper condition for the hair. It was in fact Russia that the effect of petroleum upon the hair was first observed, a Government officer having noticed that a partially bald-headed servant of his, when trimming the lamps, had a habit of wiping his oil-beamed hands in his scanty locks, and the result was in a few months a much finer head of black glossy hair than he ever had before. The oil was tried on horses and cattle that lost their hair from the cold, and the result was as rapid as they were marvellous. The manes and even the tails of horses, which had fallen out, were completely restored in a few weeks. These experiments were heralded to the world, but the knowledge was practically useless to the prematurely bald and gray, as no one in civilized society could tolerate the use of refined petroleum as a dressing for the hair. But the skill of one of our own chemists has overcome the difficulty, and by a process known only to himself, he has, after very elaborate and costly experiments, succeeded in deodorizing petroleum, which renders it susceptible of being handled as delicately as the famous rose de shiraz. The experiments made with the deodorized liquid on the human hair were attended with the most astonishing results. A few applications where the hair was thin and falling gave remarkable tone and vigor to the scalp and hair. The first or second dressing disappears on the scalp, and the hair begins to grow again. It is well known that the most beautiful color is made from petroleum, and by some mysterious operation of nature the use of this article gradually imparts a beautiful light-brown color to the hair, which, by continued use, deepens to a black. The color remains permanent for an indefinite length of time, and the change is so gradual that the most intimate friends can scarcely detect its progress. In a word, it is the most wonderful discovery of the age, and well calculated to make the prematurely bald and gray rejoice.

The article is telling its own story in the hands of thousands who are using it with most gratifying and encouraging results.

CARBOLINE Gives the most satisfaction. CARBOLINE Has a magical effect on gray hair. CARBOLINE Is free from irritating and poisonous chemicals. CARBOLINE Is the natural nourishment for the hair. CARBOLINE Has been endorsed by the highest medical authorities. CARBOLINE Gives weak and sickly hair the gloss and vigor of youth. CARBOLINE Restores faded or gray hair to its natural color. CARBOLINE Is not a dye—restores the hair naturally. CARBOLINE Cures all Diseases of the Scalp. CARBOLINE Keeps the hair moist and the scalp cool. CARBOLINE Makes the hair look natural and beautiful. CARBOLINE Delightful, fragrant, and sure to give satisfaction.

CARBOLINE Is now presented to the public without fear of contradiction as the best Restorative and Beautifier of the hair the world has ever produced. Price ONE DOLLAR per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.
